

PACIFIC ASSOCIATION OF FIRST NATIONS WOMEN
2018 Wall Street, Vancouver, BC, V5L 1B1
Ph: 604-872-1849

Job posting and department: Transporter

Job type: Casual/Part-time

Salary: $28.00/hour

Benefits: Extended health benefits after 3 months, with a minimum of 26 hours per week. Criminal record check and first aid certificate costs will be reimbursed (with original receipts) after three months of continuous employment.

Position Outline: The responsibility of a Transporter of indigenous children is focused on ensuring their safety, wellbeing, and cultural sensitivity while being transported to various designations. It's crucial for a Transporter to be well-trained, empathetic, and dedicated to the welfare of the children they serve.

Qualifications:

- Indigenous cultural heritage is an asset but not necessary to perform this job.
- Own a reliable four-door vehicle under warranty or have a recent safety inspection by a credible institution.
- Valid BC driver's license with a clean driving abstract with a minimum of 4 years safe driving.
- Upon hiring, required to have business insurance with minimum $5 million, 2nd party liability and business class.
- Vulnerable sector criminal record check is required.
- Current first Aid certificate is required.
- Experience working with children and families and asset.
- Ability to always remain impartial, non-judgmental and uphold confidentiality with exceptional interpersonal and communication skills.
- Strong observational and documentation skills and the ability to work independently and as part of a team.
- Certificate in any field related to social services, with skills in conflict resolution, child protection, early childhood development is preferred.

To Apply: Applicants must send a resume, a cover letter and 3 references to jobs@pafnw.ca.